The Change in Fashions. discourses of the prevailing fashions as fol-

"If a lady were asked to express in a couple of words what changes had taken place in the fashions during the past month, she should reply, even if she did not, shorter and skimpier. Crinoline had such a rage, and became so unbounded, that it was only natural to expect a very violent reaction. But nobody could have anticipated such a state of things as now exists. A little more, and a long step will not be a possibility. Again, ladies blessed with a profusion of hair, having dressed in the prevailing style, and having adopted the extreme of fashion, present a very unpleasing appearance. Some judgment should be used in these

"For our parts, we believe the want of proportion now evident in all the fashions will be compensated by the absolute introduction of the farthingale itself, and the abandonment of the many shapes of imitation of that adjunct which the last two months have been industriously hatching, and which have this month taken something like a decision of shape.

"Assuredly, the hips must be draped in some manner. It is quite impossible that the totally narrow skirt, utterly unrelieved, can prevail.-Of the eight figures with which we present our readers this month, scarcely one is plain at the

The hair is still worn at the summit of the head in Paris, but this style has not been adopted in England by the very best people. "The short-dress ball has had the effect of reducing the length of the trains, while at the same time, they are somewhat filled out be-

"The proper length of an out-door dress is certainly not more than three inches from the ground, while these skirts are now relieved either by flat frills-sometimes two, one above the other-ruches, or flat flutings.

'Of the extraordinary and chaotic shapes of what may be called over-skirts we can scarcely venture so say anything."

DACIFIC GUANO COMPANY'S (CAPITAL $1,000,000.) SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.

The value of this GUANO is now so well-known and appreciated, that it does not require further commendation from us.
